Online and Competitive Audit of your Business

Proforma is a $500 million marketing company that delivers promotional products, commercial printing, multimedia services, and digital marketing & online advertising to its clients.

We've just expanded our digital division adding a data scientist to our analytics team. For a limited time we are offering one of our detailed online and competitive audits at no-charge to our clients.

This audit goes well beyond the simple scans other agencies use in an attempt to obtain business from prospects. Our audits deep-dive into your business, how you go to market with your products, your target audience, types of online conversions and call-to-actions you should be using, as well as website health and search ranking and competitive standing.

Get yours now it's simple, just ask and we will deliver your audit with no strings attached.

Don't be fooled by agencies who make promises and then underdeliver. Our audit will reveal the truth concerning your online presence, and clearly tell what is working and what needs improvement, empowering you to make good choices that impact your bottom line.
