As meetings and conventions move to a virtual format, finding new and innovative ways to connect with attendees has never been more important. While most attendees are just expecting a virtual meeting or presentation, you can go the extra mile by sending them an "Event in a Box".

This Event in a Box can include anything attendees would have received at your in-person event, like high-tech wireless chargers and Bluetooth® speakers, printed materials like welcome letters and brochures and other branded items like apparel, journals and pens.

Your box can either be blank or fully-printed with your branding and comes in any size you desire. We can even skip the box and provide you with your own "Event in a Bag" if you'd like!

Some more items that your "Event in a Box" can include:

These products are a sample of what Proforma can provide your business. We hope these generate some ideas for your own fully personalized "Event in a Box"!
